

News from Psychological Science: A Conversation Between David Brooks and Walter Mischel

June 02, 2011

David Brooks is a featured New York Times columnist and a regular on the PBS News Hour with Jim Lehrer. In his NY Times columns “Social Science Palooza” I and II, he summarized examples of recent findings in the scholarly study of human behavior and concluded, “A day without social science is like a day without sunshine.” In this conversation hour, Brooks and social psychology legend Walter Mischel talked about what’s exciting them in psychological science and why it matters outside the academy.
