

How Does Misfortune Affect Long-Term Happiness?

February 18, 2014

NPR:

We're doomed to be miserable if we don't get what we want — right? Not quite, says psychologist Dan Gilbert. He says our “psychological immune system” lets us feel truly happy even when things don't go as planned.

Watch here: NPR