

APS Board of Directors Accepts Resignation of Perspectives on Psychological Science Editor-in-Chief

December 06, 2022

Today, December 6, 2022, at 9:35 a.m. ET (2:35 p.m. UTC), at the request of the APS Board of Directors, Klaus Fiedler, Editor-in-Chief of Perspectives on Psychological Science, submitted his resignation, which has been accepted.

APS's commitment to scientific psychology and upholding the integrity of our journals remains steadfast.

The APS Board of Directors, committees, and staff are gathering information that will inform next steps for strengthening psychological science and our editorial processes, while combating biases and promoting a more equitable science.

APS Members and the psychological science community at large will play a crucial role in moving forward.

Related: APS Statement in Response to Concerns About Editorial Practices at *Perspectives on Psychological Science*