

Your voice may be your biggest asset at your next job interview

September 20, 2016

Business Insider:

The latest research has found your voice could be your biggest asset when you go for a job interview.

“In addition to communicating the contents of one’s mind, like specific thoughts and beliefs, a person’s speech conveys their fundamental capacity to think — the capacity for reasoning, thoughtfulness and intellect,” says Professor Nicholas Epley of the University of Chicago Booth School of Business.

The study, “The Sound of Intellect: Speech Reveals a Thoughtful Mind, Increasing a Job Candidate’s Appeal,” is published in The Journal of Psychological Science.
