

Attention and Behavior Clinic Summer Internships

March 27, 2019

The Attention and Behavior Clinic (ABC) research group at Penn State Medical Center in Hershey, PA, is seeking counselors, lead counselors, and part-time teachers for its 2019 Summer Treatment Program.

Paid internships are available for advanced undergraduate and graduate students in psychology, education and related fields for the summer of 2019. Interns will deliver behavioral and social skills interventions to children with ADHD and/or disruptive behavior disorders in the context of a summer treatment program (STP) offered by Penn State Medical Center in Hershey, PA. The STP is an empirically supported intervention that is widely recognized as a model service delivery program for youth with attention and behavior problems. Former interns in the STP almost universally rated the STP as one of their best clinical training experiences. The ABC research group is led by Drs. James Waxmonsky, Daniel Waschbusch, Dara Babinski, and Raman Baweja.

Please see ABC's recruitment ads for more information on these counselor and teaching positions.

Questions or requests for application materials may be directed to the Attention and Behavior Clinic by email at ABC@pennstatehealth.psu.edu.

Application submissions are accepted on a rolling basis and phone interviews and position offers are additionally offered on a rolling basis.
