

Society for the Study of Human Development releases special issue of Research in Human Development

February 25, 2014

The Society for the Study of Human Development (SSHD) has released a special issue of Research in Human Development on “Emergence, Self-Organization, and Developmental Science.” The issue, which includes articles such as “Self-Organization and Explanatory Pluralism: Avoiding the Snares of Reductionism in Developmental Science,” can be accessed by SSHD members at www.sshdonline.org.