

ICPS 2019 Delivers a Bounty of Integrative Science

March 13, 2019

More than 2,700 researchers from 70 countries descended on Paris on 7-9 March 2019 for the biennial International Convention of Psychological Science. The program featured a variety of presentations about research that integrates different scientific fields and methodologies, and included a Fred Kavli Keynote Address APS Fellow BJ Casey of Yale University. Planning is already underway for ICPS 2021 in Brussels.

Look for detailed coverage of ICPS 2019 in an upcoming issue of the Observer.