

Scientists Explore the Brain's Navigational Capacity

June 02, 2016

Participants in the 2016 Presidential Symposium hosted by APS President C. Randy Gallistel included Nobel Laureate Edvard Moser of Kavli Institute for Systems Neuroscience and Norwegian University of Science and Technology, pioneering cognitive psychologist Barbara Tversky of Columbia University, pictured, neurobiologist Randolf Menzel of Freie Universität Berlin in Germany, and cognitive psychologist Russell Epstein of University of Pennsylvania. These prominent psychological scientists discussed the innate navigational systems embedded in our own brains.
